

The White House Years

WAGING PEACE

1956-1961

Dwight D. Eisenhower

G3724

MANGALDAI COLLEGE CENTRAL LIBRARY

DOUBLEDAY & COMPANY, INC., GARDEN CITY, NEW YORK

1965

The White House Years

Article on the flight of Discoverer XIII which appears as Appendix M © 1960 by the New York Times Company. Reprinted by permission.

WAGNER
PEACE
1956-1961
Dwight D. Eisenhower

Library of Congress Catalog Card Number 65-19046
Copyright © 1965 by Dwight D. Eisenhower
All Rights Reserved. Printed in the United States of America

Contents

Preface	vii
BOOK ONE
I The Political Campaign, 1956	3
Announcement of intention to run again. Nixon as running mate. Ileitis attack. Panama Conference. The convention in San Francisco: renomination, platform, celebration. Goals of the Republican party. The campaign: flying trips, the "truth squad." Stevenson's attacks on Milton Eisenhower, nuclear testing, and the draft. Election results.
II Build-up to Suez	20
The historical background. Tensions between Israel and her neighbors. Military alliances in Suez. The rise of Nasser. Czech arms deal. The Baghdad Pact. Crises in Jordan and Cyprus, clashes along the Gaza Strip. Offers of assistance for the Aswan Dam. Missions of Eric Johnston and Foster Dulles. Egyptian seizure of the Canal. Exchanges of British and American views. Meetings with bipartisan congressional leadership. 22-nation conference in London. The Menzies mission. Canal Users Association. The Second London Conference. British and French appeal to the UN, and a result—"Six Principles." Evidence of Israeli mobilization.
III Twenty Busy Days	58
Khrushchev confronts Gomulka. Riots in Wroclaw and Poznan. Soviet tanks in Budapest. Disquieting reports from the Middle East. Campaigning again. Nagy comes to power. Spread of the Hungarian revolt. Israeli troops invade Egypt. The British and French attack. United States opposition. Resolutions at the UN. The Canal blocked. Air attacks. Hungary crushed, refugees assisted. U.S. elections. Cease-fire in Suez. Aftermath.

BOOK TWO

IV A Sequence of Summits

103

Visit of Habib Bourguiba. The problem of colonialism. Conversations with Prime Minister Nehru at Gettysburg and Washington: Pan-Arabism, international Communism, socialism—and the delicacy of neutrality. The subject of Pakistan. Portrait of Nehru. Opposition to visit of King Saud. Arabian military and economic needs. Harold Macmillan succeeds Anthony Eden. Bermuda, March 1957: restoring Anglo-American understanding and talking over problems of Nasser, oil, Cyprus. Establishment of EURATOM and the European Economic Community.

V A Family of Controversies

127

Secretary Humphrey and the "hair-curling depression." Republicans and Democrats threaten the budget. Defense of the budget and the Mutual Security Program. Arthur Larson and the battle for USIA appropriation. Defeat of the school construction bill. Girard case in Japan and the attack on our Status of Forces Agreements. The unending fight for foreign aid.

VI Civil Rights

148

Steps toward equal rights. The 1954 Supreme Court decision. Resistance of the segregationists. The administration's 1957 civil rights program. Overcoming Democratic resistance and passing the bill. Governor Faubus orders National Guard to block integration in Little Rock. Federal court order. Meeting at Newport, R.I. The decision to send federal troops. Continuing opposition from Governor Faubus. Results.

VII Renewed Tension in the Middle East 177

The "Eisenhower Doctrine." Ben-Gurion and the resolution for the withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egypt. UN Emergency Force along the Gaza Strip. A plea from King Saud. Suez Canal Authority begins operations. Crisis in Jordan. Liquidation of Oman rebellion. The Syrian problem.

VIII Sputnik and a Sputtering Economy 205

Soviet Union orbits first manmade satellite. Apprehension in the Free World. "Shocked" politicians and concerned parents. A brief history of missile development. Initiation of Project Vanguard. Scientists urge acceleration in science and engineering. Interlude: the visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip. Second Sputnik and Laika. The Gaither Report. Speeches on the "right to confidence."

IX A Drastic Personal Test 227

Third illness. Difficulties with speech. A personal test at a NATO summit. Nostalgic visits in Paris. Agreement on the question of arms for Europe. A plan to deal with presidential disability.

BOOK THREE

X Science and Defense 239

State of the Union message on scientific and military strength. Drive for the National Defense Education Act. Reorganization of the Department of Defense. Resistance in the Congress. Polaris. Changes of military advisers. Explorer I launched. Creation of National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Human benefits and space exploration through satellites. Selection of astronauts and launching of Project Mercury. Nautilus cruise under Arctic ice cap. Effect of scientific and technological change on man and his institutions.

XI Landing in Lebanon 262

President Nasser announces formation of United Arab Republic. Iraq and Jordan merge. Abdication of King Saud. Christians vs. Moslems in Lebanese politics. Armed uprising in Beirut. UN observation teams investigate infiltration from Syria. Coup against Hashemite monarchy in Iraq. The case for intervention. Landing of troops. World reaction. Robert Murphy reports on Middle East situation. Problem of access to Jordan. Rejection of Premier Khrushchev's proposal for a summit meeting. Address to the UN General Assembly. Beginning of stabilization. Colonel Nasser and the Western powers.

XII The Troubled Islands Again—Quemoy and Matsu, 1958 292

Stepped-up Communist bombardment of the offshore islands. The United States' role in the far Pacific. Seventh Fleet escorts supply convoys. Chiang Kai-shek calls for full U.S. military power in the defense of Quemoy. Reaffirmation of the Formosa Resolution. The Nationalist Navy foils blockade as psychological warfare continues. End of the crisis.

XIII The Departure of Sherman Adams 305

The 1958 recession. Resisting panic and panaceas. Refusal to advocate hasty tax cut. End of the decline. House investigation of Sherman Adams' relationship with Bernard Goldfine. Resignation of Governor Adams. Reorganization of White House staff. Natural resources legislation. The American Indian. Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

BOOK FOUR

XIV Berlin 329

History of divided Berlin. Premier Khrushchev announces peace treaty with East Germany. Detention of U. S. Army convoy. Allied commitment. Outlining policy. The mission of John Foster Dulles. Easing of tensions. Visit to President Lopez Mateos at Acapulco. Harold Macmillan in Moscow. Exchanging views with congressional leaders. The summit issue. Visit of Macmillan and Lloyd. Ailing Secretary Dulles resigns, with Christian Herter succeeding. Foreign ministers' talks.

XV John Foster Dulles 361

A lifetime of service. Guideposts for foreign policy. The ring of alliances. Profile of Foster Dulles as negotiator and associate. Observations on Kremlin motivation and a view of the future. His fears and hopes.

XVI Principally Politics 374

Congressional elections of 1958. The reasons for the defeats. The hazards of "creeping inflation." Toward a revitalized Republican party. Charles Halleck and Everett Dirksen become Minority Leaders. The battle of the budget. The Landrum-Griffin Labor-Management Act. Senator Symington's allegations of a missile gap. Opposition to appointment of Clare Boothe Luce as ambassador. The Senate's rejection of Lewis Strauss.

XVII Collapse at Geneva 397

First assignment for Secretary Herter. Atmosphere of the Geneva conference. Soviet ultimatums and postponements on Berlin. Prime Minister Macmillan presses for a summit. Communicating our insistence on accomplishment through foreign ministers. Deadlock and recess. Exchange of cultural exhibitions. Plans for Premier Khrushchev's visit and a misunderstanding with Robert Murphy. Vice President Nixon and Dr. Eisenhower in Moscow. Termination of talks in Geneva.

XVIII Personal Diplomacy 413

Renewing personal contact with Charles de Gaulle. Conference with Chancellor Adenauer in Bonn: Algeria and Berlin. Reception in London. A call on the Royal Family. Wide-ranging discussion at Chequers. Hospitality in Paris. The French viewpoint on Khrushchev's impending trip to the United States, NATO and a new tripartite organization, independence for African colonies. Interlude at Culzean Castle. Hopes and delicate arrangements behind Premier Khrushchev's arrival. First steps toward establishing trust. Ten-day tour of America. Camp David talks: war reminiscences and contemporary military strength. Decision on the German problem. The visit evaluated.

BOOK FIVE

- XIX The Steel Strike and the Economic Record 453
 Government's role. Effects of the lengthy steelworkers' walk-out. Sessions with management and labor. Taft-Hartley injunction. The Vice President begins secret talks. Agreement. The continuing dangers of inflation. The new America.
- XX Disarmament 466
 Thoughts on the cost of war. Creative proposals for mutual disarmament. Communist insistence on a closed society. The International Atomic Energy Agency. Harold Stassen and the UN subcommittee. Presenting our paper on progressive disarmament and nuclear arms control. Apprehension within NATO and rejection by the Soviets. Concern over testing in the atmosphere. Geneva conference on scientific technicalities. Test ban negotiations. The Hardtack data. Project Vela. Evaluation of disarmament efforts.
- XXI Friends 485
 Value of a personal journey through the Free World. Diplomatic wire-walking. Itinerary and staff arrangements. Discussing Italy's role with President Gronchi and Prime Minister Segni. A visit with Pope John. Turkish friends. In Pakistan: ceremony, the Kashmir problem, and American aid. Barbara Eisenhower as diplomat. Afghanistan. Teeming crowds in New Delhi. Great sights, public addresses, and private conversations with Nehru. Stop in Iran. With King Paul in Greece. Habib Bourguiba's view of the Algerian problem. Summit of four Western powers. Conference with General Franco regarding U.S. installations. Berber salutes and the desire for African independence in Morocco. Home again.
- XXII Amigos 514
 Ties with southern neighbors. Inter-American Development Bank, Latin American common markets, commodity study groups. Dr. Milton Eisenhower's recommendations. Trouble in Bolivia and Panama. Vice President Nixon attacked. Intelligence reports on the Castro movement. Overthrow of the Batista government. Communist infiltration. The need for collective action. Plans for a presidential journey through South America. Brasilia. Visit with President Frondizi of Argentina. Letter of protest from students in Chile. Plans for a new policy for social reform. Demonstrations in Montevideo. Moves against Castro. Moves against Trujillo. Congress approves increased aid for Latin America. OAS condemnation of the Dominican Republic. Declaration of San José. The Act of Bogota.

BOOK SIX

- XXIII The Summit That Never Was 543
- U-2 reconnaissance plane reported missing. Importance of the aerial survey program. Capture of Francis Gary Powers. Soviet use of the incident for propaganda. Issuance of a cover story. Admission of responsibility. Prospects dimmed for a summit meeting in Paris. Khrushchev's three demands. Preliminary meetings with Macmillan and De Gaulle. Break-up amidst bluster.
- XXIV Turbulent Summer 560
- Resumption of attacks by the Soviet premier. Communist-led riots in Japan. James Hagerty and Thomas Stephens attacked in Tokyo. Nostalgic stop in the Philippines. Japan's invitation canceled. Mutual Defense Treaty ratified. Chiang Kai-shek's warnings of Communist advances. Conversations on Okinawa. Political outlook for Korea. RB-47 incident. Lodge exposes Soviet activities. Chaos in the Belgian Congo. Secession of Katanga. UN military assistance. Rival governments for the Congo. Gathering heads of state at the UN. Five-point proposal for Africa. Public accusations by Khrushchev and Castro. Hearing first-hand problems in changing Afro-Asia. Talks with Tito, Nasser, and Nehru. "Neutralist" call for a meeting with Khrushchev.
- XXV Twilight 590
- Rockefeller, Nixon, and the 1960 Republican nomination. The Kennedy-Johnson ticket. Hammering out the G.O.P.

platform. Address to the convention. The campaigns compared. Television debates. Presidential participation: motorcades, telecasts, rallies. The election returns. Transfer of responsibilities. The gold outflow. The Communist threat to Laos. Breaking off relations with Cuba. Threats to Guatemala and Nicaragua. Training Cuban refugees. Farewell address: The "military-industrial complex." An inauguration and a new life.

Afterthoughts

620

The cold war. Formation of postwar foreign policy. Support of the UN. Military preparedness. Foreign aid. The system of alliances. Continuing struggle between freedom and Communism. The fate of the European satellites. Information through the Iron Curtain. Communist troublemaking tactics. Organization in the Executive branch. Use of personnel and advisory groups. Decision-making. Intermediary supervision in the conduct of foreign relations and government business. Possible changes in the law-making process: the congressional term of office, intergovernmental cooperation, the "item veto," election and inauguration timetable, federal judgeships, presidential disability. In retrospect: global disarmament, the 1960 defeat of Richard Nixon. The continuing concern for moral values.

Acknowledgments

659

Appendixes

661

Index

719